update #6

developing our odyssey

voyager pensions

First and foremost, we hope that you and your families are all keeping safe and well through these continued difficult times.

As you know, from time to time we look to keep you all up to date on developments here at Odyssey Pensions. With that in mind, there's a couple of things we think you should know...

Firstly, as a number of you will be aware, we've welcomed Darren Hill to Odyssey. With a long background in pensions and client management, Darren brings some significant experience and expertise to our team and is a hugely welcome addition.

Going forward, he will be developing links with financial advisers and other industry professionals with a view to broadening our presence in the market. He will also be offering additional technical assistance to our existing clients and advisers, helping to further cement our philosophy around service and support.

Secondly, we're pleased to announce the launch of a new and separate strand to our business – Voyager Pensions and the Voyager SSAS.

We've been aware for some time (as I'm sure you have via various articles in the Press) of the growth of the 'DIY SSAS' market. The market typically encompasses individuals who are very active in property, whether commercial or residential, with a tendency to use their pension scheme in various company projects they are undertaking, or in the wider 'DIY' community, often without the benefit of a financial adviser.

The purpose of Voyager SSAS marks our entry into that arena. Our strategy is to seek to capture an element of that market – clients principally interested in commercial property, or in Sponsoring Employer loans – and framing that with the same sorts of strong systems and controls that we presently operate within Odyssey.

In order to assist us with our development plans, we're pleased to announce that Voyager has recruited Ian Davies as a Business Development Executive. Ian, with a strong background in financial services, brings a wealth of experience to Voyager and will be a significant asset to the new firm.

Should you have any queries or want to know a bit more about the Voyager SSAS proposition, then please do not hesitate to contact any of us here, including Ian on 07592 148346.

Hope you all remain safe and well.
